Well begun is half done.

Life has many twists and turns, but in spite of all this we have come to the end of a glorious academic year 2017-18 which has seen the completion of many successful endeavours. We now move forward with zeal and enthusiasm, with new hopes, dreams and eagerness to face 2018-19 and all that it holds for us.

Remember, a good start in anything is important for its successful completion. It is a fact that when we start any task in a good manner, it reaches its heights successfully. If you have hard work to do, do it now. Your progress depends on your good start. I encourage you all to accomplish every task given with excellence from the very outset of this new academic year. Anything that is well begun can be considered as half done.

Leave your failures and disappointments of the past year behind and always strive to achieve the best. Do your maximum, from right now and see how you will be able to realize and fulfill your dreams.

It is rightly said, GOD HELPS THOSE WHO HELP THEMSELVES and so with God's grace and help, let us unite in making this academic session a success by having a smooth and good start which will surely lead to a great progress in the future.

FROM THE DESK OF THE PRINCIPAL

The school has entered yet another Academic session. It is wonderful to see the children back to the school. The place is again filled with energy and liveliness. The children have been promoted to next level. The happiness and pride to enter the new classroom, a grade higher was so evident from their faces on the first day.

Like any other year, even this year we have extended the family by adding new students. I welcome all the new entrants to Nirma Vidyavihar. I am sure that the students as well as their parents will enjoy the schooling, as it should be... With all the enthusiasm of the students and motivation from the teachers I wish that the school will move one step ahead in its journey from better to best. Let us begin this new session with a promise that each and every one in the school will strive to keep the banner of Nirma Vidyavihar flying high. That none of us will ever do or let others do anything that may discredit the name of the school. I wish each one, a successful year ahead.

The teachers lovingly welcomed the little ones by applying 'tikka' on their foreheads. The teachers had meticulously planned their day. The newbies were introduced to their class teachers and helper didis. The teachers sang rhymes and told them stories with the help of puppets. The children were also given a free hand to colour on paper. The teachers indulged them in games to develop their listening skills. The day ended with children playing with a ball. The happy children left the school holding their parents' hands but longing for more excitement on the next day.

CREATIVE SPLURGE

Well Begun is Half Done

The little Beginnings.....

Beginnings are always difficult and therefore a good beginning is very important to keep us motivated. Most often we want to do what we know. And exploring an unknown terrain gives us jitters. But if we are determined to conquer our fears then only we can make a good start. And good start always assures success. Therefore it is aptly said, Well begun is half done.

Arya Patel V-B

'I might not be able to complete the work', is the sentence often heard of, because people are hesitant to try any new activity. A lot of enthusiasm is needed to overcome this problem. Our full hearted dedication will ensure that we use our energies to begin the task and hand it well. Thus, the saying, 'Well begun is half done', warns us never to have a dull start.

Reeva Gajjar V-B

The most effective way to succeed is to plan the work in advance. The blue print of the plan enables us to begin the most difficult task confidently. Therefore, if we know what we want, we will have the blueprint to achieve it. This will motivate us further to learn more and we can say to ourselves that beginning is very much important.

Viha Jani V-C

A good beginning ensures success. Whereas a bad beginning will have an adverse effect, it will cause wastage of money and energy. Therefore, we should begin all our work with smile and a bit of preparation. This way we can make sure that good beginning will give good results.

Om Patel V-B

WELL BEGUN IS HALF DONE

We all have heard this sentence. In fact we all hear it very often, but do we actually work upon it? Do we even know what it means? It means that if we start a task with a positive attitude without worrying about how we would complete it or whether we would be successful, our work is half done.

I will give you a small example. When the runners are ready to run a relay race, if the first runner takes a steady lead, there are good chances of them winning. In our life too, if we begin our work with a determination to complete the given work, however difficult it may seem, half of our work is done at that moment itself. So, this proverb teaches us that we must do our work with discipline, sincerity and regularity. As the wise say, 'Well Begun Is Half Done'.

Abhilasha Sisodia (VI-B) Bodakdev

When we start a given work with a positive attitude, the work is well begun and indeed half done.

So this academic year we should start working hard from the beginning and never postpone our work for the next day. We should finish it on that day itself. If we keep postponing our work, our attitude for that particular work becomes boring and we will not give it our best. So let's always start a work at the right moment with the right attitude and success will surely follow.

Vivaan Shah (VI-B) Bodakdev

"Well begun is half done" was actually referred to as a proverb by Aristotle. Any work or project or mission if begun well or in the right direction will end well. Hence the process or completion of any project/ work much depends on the beginning of an endeavor. So you can say a good beginning makes a good end. Parina Nanavati (VI-A) Bodakdev

Beginnings are always difficult and so a good beginning is very important. It is a fact that if we start a task in a good manner, it will reach its heights successfully. A bad beginning will have an adverse effect on the progress of the work. It may cause delay in the execution of the work. Sometimes, we may have to undo what we have done. This causes waste of resources. So, I plan to make a good start and have a successful academic year.

Devanshi (VI-A) Bodakdev

There is an old saying – "well begun is half done" by Aristotle. This saying tells us that if we begin anything with a positive attitude and do it with determination, we have almost completed it. If we work hard, we can make the impossible, possible. Sometimes we have to do things we don't like. But if we begin it without thinking that we don't like it or it's too much, we will be able to complete it satisfactorily and in lesser time. As happily as we do the work, the easier it will be.

Nioshi Desai (VI-B) Bodakdev

"Well Begun Is Half Done" means a good and right beginning always assures one of success. It is a fact that when we start something or any task in a good manner, it reaches its heights successfully. A good start in anything is important for its completion. Beginnings are always difficult and so a good beginning is very important.

For example: It is very important to make a good start in a race. So athletes pay a lot of attention to make a good start in the race. They train themselves for a good start because it determines the victory.

Het Shah (VI-A) Bodakdev

How to begin is crucial to one's success. Start a day on a pleasant note and even the difficult things become easy. Start a race on a good run and you are most likely to better your record. Win the first point or a game in a competition and you are much prepared for the rest of it. And if you are a cricketer, you always know one thing by experience – the first half century lays the foundation for a big score. In everything one does in life initial success paves the way for final achievement, since WELL BEGUN IS HALF DONE. Rishi Bhandarker (VI-A) Bodakdev

"Well begun is half done" A good start in anything is important for successful completion. If we leave our work for tomorrow and so on, the work gets piled up. Therefore, when we sit to do that piled up work, it will be boring as well as difficult. To conclude in a nut shell if we begin our work at right time, we are halfway to successful completion. Dhruvi B Shah (VI-B) Bodakdev

To begin any work that leads to success, we must follow the basic principles of right attitude, earnestness, sincerity, perfect planning and study of possible difficulties which may arise and how to overcome them. This itself leads to the halfway mark of any given task.

A beautiful example to this proverb is an article I read lately, about a girl who lost her father at a very young age and her mother worked as a bonded laborer. This girl finished her high school at the age of thirteen. A strong will power, the right attitude, focus, faith, hard work and sincerity helped her to start with a bang. Although she faced a lot of financial difficulties, she didn't lose hope and succeeded with flying colours.

Thus if we begin our work with the right attitude and sincerity nothing can stop us from completing it successfully.

This proves that, 'Well Begun Is Half Done'.

Aakanksha Patel (VI-B) Bodakdev

"Well begun is half done" is a very quote for everyone. It means that if we start our work at the right time with attitude and good intent for the work, we can do it very easily. If we think that the work is easy our half work is done. To finish the remaining half we have to work hard. But if we think that the task given is impossible for us without even trying, we might miss out a wonderful opportunity. Positive attitude at the start will surely lead to success. Hence, we should be optimistic before starting any task or work. Aarav Kusumgar (VI-B) Bodakdev

Well begun is half done

As we role into the new academic session of 2018-19 there are new promises, new resolutions and new hopes. The previous year has taught us many lessons, we tripped, we fell, and we stood up with each downfall. When we feel that we have achieved something a new challenge grips us and more and more energy and planning are needed to complete it. We have started our new session with lots of enthusiasm and determination to overcome our weaknesses and find our way through to the newer horizons. If we plan well and execute well, I don't see any reason as why we cannot achieve the desired results. Every big journey starts with a small step but those steps should be taken carefully. "Rome was not built in a day" is an apt saying which proves that if we need substantial results beginning has to be very good. Our ambitions and our hard work should go hand in hand for our plan to work. Sitting at the edge of the swimming pool cannot teach us swimming. We have to get into the situation to face it and regain our confidence.

Riya Mehta (IX-E)

Well Begun is half done

"Well begun is half done" – it means that if we start a work at right time and do it with full enthusiasm, it is said that it is half done.

We should always start our work after planning and deciding all its benefits and loses. If all these things are kept in mind, we will always have a good start which makes our work easier. If we start our work with laziness we cannot be successful and consequently we have to work harder to accomplish the task.

Viha Patel (VII-E)

Well begun is half done

A cheerful start initiates a lucky journey. To begin well our path to success, we need to be determined from the very first step. Success is never inadvertent and to cherish the true spirit of success we need to be persistent and must have demeanor towards all odds. A good plan leads to good execution when use of time and energy is at its best. Unseen delays are always a hindrance and can affect our journey to the final destination. In case of students the planning can be very crucial. Though the beginning may be tough but patience, self confidence and a balanced physical and emotional well being can overcome all odds. There is a charm in good planning and the level of satisfaction after out plan works can be thrilling. So let us begin our sessions at school well and make our teachers and parents proud of us.

Bhakti and Anushka (X-E)

Well Begun Is Half Done"

There is an old saying that "well begun is half done". In this sense the proverb actually comes to the point of an importance of "Starting". It is the fact that when we start any task in a good manner. It reaches its height successfully. A good start in anything is important for our successful competition. A bad or lazy beginning will have an adverse effect on the progress of the work. Whenever we do anything in hurry it will not give fruitful result. If the work is begun well, then it is supposed to continue smoothly.

Dhrashti Chauhan (VII-D)

Well begun is half done

When you have a good start, you are halfway there
When you do some work, do it fair
Beginning matters a lot; they teach you to be consistent,
In the course of journey, one needs to be persistent.
Things at first may look tough
Do not falter, if going gets rough.
Focus is the key to a good start,
Master all your confidence and strength of heart,
Be tenacious in your approach, right from the start.
Never lose hope and forgo your goals,
Hope is stronger than fear,
When you start well, success is always near

Manya and Sanjana (X-E)

"WELL BEGUN IS HALF DONE"

This is the famous proverb which holds pearls of the wisdom for all of us. It states that if one has planned well and begun a task well, it is half the battle won. And then it would be easier to complete the rest of the task without putting more efforts. Beginning well will save the time and effort.

An appropriate start always paves the way to success and removes one's fear of failure. An example; If you are appearing for the exam, and early preparation of the subject would ease the last minute tension and make life comfortable. It means one is well in advance ready to cope up with present situation or coming situation. Everyone who wants to be successful in life has to put himself/herself in practice of doing the work well in the beginning.

WHICH GLASS GETS FULL FIRST?

FOR ANSWERS, SEE REVERSE

B

If you are thinking glass 7 should fill first, than you are wrong. Why? Water will first go in glass 1 and before it gets full, it will go to glass 3. From glass 3, it will not flow to glass 7 (as it is blocked), same way it will try to flow to glass 6 but the opening to glass 6 is blocked, thus it will first fill glass 3 fully.

Thus our final code should be: 042

And from S3 0 is wrong placed in S3, so 0 should be at 1st position. And from S2, 1 or 4 were the possibility, but it can't be 1 since, it says it is wrongly placed but it can't be (as we already know the numbers for 1st and 3rd positions), so the 2nd number should be 4.

Now from S5, we can say 0 is correct(as 7 and 8 are not correct anyways, from S4) and its wrong placed too(as we already know 2 and should be at third position).

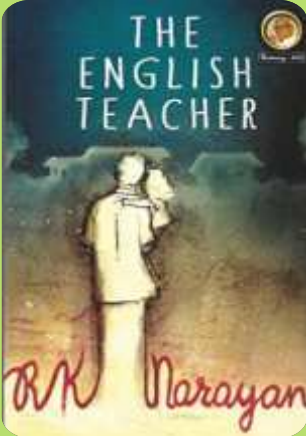

Now from S3, 2 and 0 are correct, thus from S1, we can say 2 is correct and should be at third place. And S4 supports this.

From S1 and S2, we can say 6 can not be the correct number as both statement contradicts.

Answer: 042

Solve Your Problems By The Birbal Way

The book, Solve Your Problems - The Birbal Way, is written by Luis S.R. Vas and Anita S.R. Vas.

Mughal Emperor Akbar loved philosophy and sought the company of the wisest and most talented men in his court. He had nine exceptionally talented men in his court. The people called them Nav Ratna - 'The Nine Jewels of the Mughal Crown'. Birbal was one of them. The authors have retold some of the Birbal stories. There is a deeper, psychological and sociological reason behind the Birbal's stories. Each story is divided into three parts - Problem, Solution and Management moral. ## The Alchemist By Paulo Coelho

The Alchemist is written by Paulo Coelho, a famous Brazilian novelist and a recipient of several awards. It's a fiction originally published in Portuguese and later translated into 70 languages. ## Pride and Prejudice By Jane Austen

Jane Austen is one of the most widely read authors of English literature, though she was never given credit for being the author of any of the work while she was alive. Pride and Prejudice published in 1813 is a nice, satisfying and fun read book. It talks about the problems of bringing up daughters and their marriages in the middle class families. The novel starts with conversation between Mrs. and Mr. Bennet, where Mrs. Bennet is trying to persuade her husband to visit Mr Bingley, an eligible bachelor who has arrived as the neighborhood. Mrs. Bennet is determined to have her five daughters married hopefully with healthy respectable men. The story mainly revolves around two daughters and their ups and downs in relationships. Jane-Mr. Bingley and Elizabeth-Mr. Darcy. Elizabeth is my favourite because she is independent and outspoken. If you like classic literature, a good love story and humorous character, you'll enjoy reading "Pride and Prejudice". And if you are a movie watcher you could also watch the movie.
